

CAMPAIGN FUND OF PALMERS WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Charges Made Against Department Of Justice On Politics.

WOOD MATTER AIRED

Testimony Alleges General's Campaign Underwritten at Million.

Chicago, July 8.—Chairman Kenyon announced that the senate committee probing pre-convention expenditures plans before adjourning its hearings to "delve thoroughly into the campaign of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer."

In this connection Edward F. Coltra of St. Louis, Democratic committeeman, and Joseph T. Davis, a lawyer of St. Louis, have been subpoenaed.

In addition to questioning Davis and Coltra, the committee will investigate charges filed by William Armstrong, Chicago attorney. He charged that the department of justice had been instrumental in granting pardons to alleged criminals who, he said, might help politically, and he added, had blocked prosecution by the government of persons trying to gain several hundred thousand dollars by illegal means.

Mr. Armstrong's documents consisted of a printed book of 52 pages. He charged the department of justice with attempting to "prevent indictments being returned against the New York Central railroad by a federal grand jury," and said a "Democratic member of congress" agreed with "a certain person to obtain $397,178.12 from the government on post-war claims if given 25 per cent."

The committee delved into the organization and expenditures of backers of Major General Leonard Wood. The committee also began an exhaustive inquiry into the organization in Missouri of Governor Frank O. Lowden.

Loeb a Witness.

Among the witnesses were William Loeb, formerly private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt, who described himself as a "sort of clearing house through which Wood funds in the east passed."

Mr. Loeb described how a group of New York men underwrote $1,000,000 for the Wood campaign. He said he was called into conference with George A. Whalen, Rufus Patterson, Colonel Ambrose Monell, Zoth Freeman and others to give his opinion as to what Wood's campaign would cost.

"I estimated the expenses at $1,000,000," he told the committee. "Colonel Monell underwrote $250,000, Mr. Whalen $250,000, Mr. William Cooper Procter $250,000, and agreed to get the rest."

Mr. Loeb declared $400,000 passed through his hands, but said the men who gave it to him might have obtained it from someone else. General Wood, he testified, was present at the opening of this meeting, but not when the money was underwritten.

J. B. Duke was one contributor to this $1,000,000; George W. Perkins gave $10,000, and H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil company $50,000, Loeb said. He asserted these men might have obtained the money from others.

Loeb presented check books showing the amounts he received. Senator Reed questioned him concerning an item of "five cashiers' checks for $25,000."

Loeb said he mailed such checks under orders from former Postmaster General Hitchcock. One check went to Florida, one to Georgia, one to a Colonel Smith, one to a Republican national committeeman in the District of Columbia and one to Maryland. They were for $5,000 each, he said. These checks were put in envelopes without letters and mailed, the witness said.

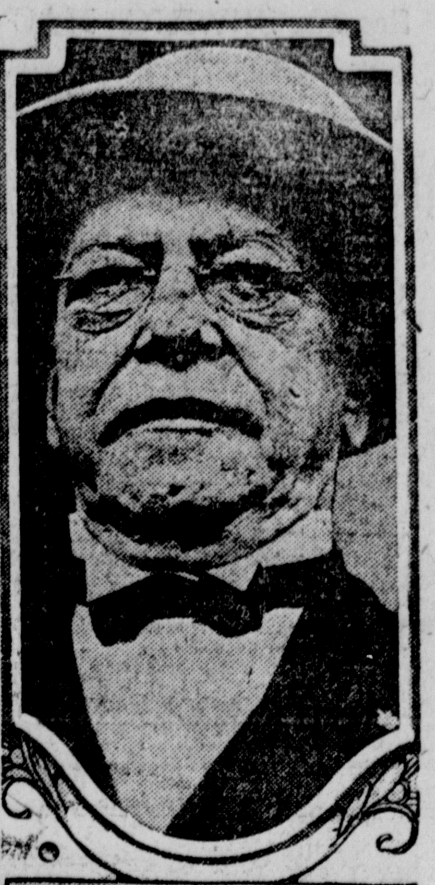

When Senator Reed asked if this was not an unusual way to send money, Loeb replied, "Not in politics."

ENGLISH WARSHIP BOMBARDS INLAND TURKISH POSITIONS

Fire Directed By Airplanes On The Ozan Coast.

London, July 8.—The British dreadnought Iron Duke with her 13 inch guns is bombarding the inland positions of the Turkish nationalists near the Bosphorus, said a Constantinople dispatch to the Evening News today. The fire is being directed by airplanes. British destroyers are shelling the Turkish positions on the Ozan coast.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, photographed in San Francisco during the Democratic National Convention. According to reports from San Francisco, it was President Gompers who forced the withdrawal of A. BRITISH GENERAL DEFENDS KILLING OF 500 INDIANS

Pleads Action Was Made To Insure English Authority.

London, July 8.—General R. P. H. Dyer, whose troops shot down nearly 500 Indians at Amritsar in the Punjab in April, 1919, was defended in the House of Commons today on the ground he was upholding British authority.

General Dyer was condemned by an army council for ordering his men to fire upon the crowds in the streets of the Indian City. A report that was made following a long government investigation was under debate in Commons today.

General Dyer, itemized his defense. He declared that he had reason to believe that the Indian mobs intended to challenge British authority and felt that if he shirked the challenge, the Indian people would hold the British government in derision. General Dyer said that there was much unrest and he feared that mobs might take matters into their own hands killing all Europeans in Amritsar including women and children.

The defense of the war office in the Amritsar affair was left to Secretary of War Churchill E. S. Montague, secretary of state for India read a long statement in behalf of his branch of the government.

"A white paper" was put forward in Dyer's defense. It added to the details that already had been advanced in behalf of the officer. According to the "white paper" Dyer's forces in Amritsar were faced by a crowd of from 15,000 to 20,000 Indians in front while at the same time they were exposed to attack in the rear. It was an "anxious situation," from a military standpoint, the "white paper" said. Dyer deployed 50 rifle men into attacking position and they fired 1,650 rounds into the crowd within ten minutes. The Indians quickly dispersed leaving the field to the British troops.

RIVAL CLAIMS OF VICTORY RECEIVED FROM RUSS POLE LINE

Both Sides Declare Loss Inflicted On The Other.

London, July 8.—Rival claims of victory on the Russia-Poland battlefront were received from Moscow and Warsaw today. The following soviet communique was wirelessly from Moscow.

"We (Russian bolsheviks) have forced the enemy from the Ubor river. In a series of battles we have flung the enemy back on the Staro-Konstantinoff line. We advanced southwest of Jitomir (in Ukraine)." The Polish war office communique says:

"Repulsed the Russian offensive on the Middle Dvina river. South of the Dvina we counter attacked successfully."

Lancaster, July 8.—Mrs. Charles Wygum, Lancaster, is believed to be diving as a result of being scalded when she fell with a vessel of boiling water.

RUSSIAN TRADE RESTRICTIONS REMOVED BY U.S.

State Department Permits Trade With Russia.

EXCEPTION IS MADE

Action Taken Independently Of Other Nations.

Washington, July 8.—The state department has removed restrictions on trade with soviet Russia, except insofar as they pertain to the shipment of materials susceptible of immediate use for war purposes.

An individual export license must be obtained for the shipment of such materials, and it was announced that such licenses would be granted only in exceptional cases.

Individual export licenses also will be required for the export to Russia of locomotives, railroad material and rolling stock and motor cars and component parts.

The state department's action, while taken independently of other nations, followed extensive exchanges between the United States and Great Britain and France. It is believed to have been hastened by the recent negotiations between Gregory Krassin, representing the Bolshevik government, and Premier Lloyd George, looking to the resumption of trade between Great Britain and Russia.

In announcing its action the state department took particular pains to state that political recognition, present or future, of any Russian authority exercising or claiming to exercise governmental functions, was neither granted nor intended. It also emphasized that individuals or corporations trading with Russia will do so on their own responsibility and at their risk, as this government could offer no protection to Americans going to Russia or trading with Russia.

The statement also was made by the department that indications were that Russia had only a small quantity of raw materials for export; that its purchasing power was very limited, and that consequently there would not be any considerable trade with that country.

Trade between the United States and Russia has been prohibited since the Bolsheviks gained control in that country a year before the end of the world war.

SUES FOR $30,000 FROM RAILROAD TO RECOVER FOR HURT

Hugh Buckwalter Hit By Train At Crossing; Crippled.

The suit to recover $30,000 damages which was brought against Walker D. Himes as director general of railroads by Hugh Buckwalter of Alpha for injuries sustained when the truck he was driving was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train at the Cincinnati avenue crossing last December 22 is being tried before Judge Kyle and a common pleas jury. The trial opened Wednesday.

Mr. Buckwalter is still suffering from his injuries and walks with the aid of crutches. His chief injury was to the left leg which was broken above the knee. The bone slipped after it was set, and as a consequence it is healing with the leg about two inches shorter. The question as to whether or not this slipping of the bone was caused by the patient's disobeying orders and sitting up in bed without assistance enters into the trial. Mr. Buckwalter was driving a truck for the Alpha Seed and Grain Company when the accident occurred. He is represented by Attorney Charles L. Darlington. Smith and Smith are counsel for the railroad.

VESSEL GROUND ON BAR SAVED

Detroit, July 8.—The steamer Hamonic, of the Northern Navigation company fleet which went aground near Harbor Beach Tuesday, was floated at 6 o'clock last evening and arrived at Port Huron safely during the night after spending 18 hours on a sand bar. The 350 passenger were all well and the vessel was not damaged.

WILL VISIT COX

San Francisco, July 8.—Both Edward H. Moore, political manager for Governor James M. Cox and Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic national committee, are on their way to Ohio today to hear from the new party leader his plans for a successful campaign.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE TURNS THE CRANK

"I have been on the other side of this thing too much, now let me grind it for a change," said Senator Harding, Republican Presidential nominee, to the movie men who were waiting to photograph him as he departed from Washington for his home in Marion, Ohio. The Senator is here shown turning the table on the photographers.

GERMANY MUST DISARM WITHIN EIGHT MONTHS

—Avers Lloyd George

Fourth Formal Session Of Spa Conference With Allied and German Delegates Opens at Noon Thursday.

Spa, Belgium, July 8.—The fourth formal session of the Spa conference with both allied and German delegates present began at noon today to hear the allies answer to Germany's counter disarmament proposal.

While the Germans asked for 15 months in which to reduce their army to 100,000 men and destroy war materials in accordance with the treaty terms it was reported when today's meeting opened that Premier Lloyd George would demand that Germany disarm within six or eight months.

This would be a concession to Germany for, under the old terms, the Germans should have carried out the allies' disarmament demands by the middle of this month.

It was understood that Premier Millerand and Premier DeLa Croix, of Belgium were in complete accord with the British prime minister on the length of time that should be given Germany to disarm.

There was every indication today that the conference would continue until the end of the week and perhaps later. The British delegates said that the sessions may last until next Monday, but the French were hopeful that they could finish by Sunday.

There was little likelihood of a break off. The Germans were frank in admitting that they have great masses of men under arms, the number put at more than a million.

Paris, July 8.—French newspapers today expressed satisfaction with the proceedings at Spa.

"The Germans at last understand that they must accept the allied terms," said ex-Premier Clemenceau's newspaper L'Homme Libre.

"The question of German disarmament will be settled in accordance with French desires," said Avenir.

Eclair insists that the French shall not "abandon their legitimate financial demands."

The engagements undertaken by Germany at Spa are valuable only if she is forced to keep them," said Petit Bleu.

CARRANZA'S DAUGHTER FILES PROTEST OF ASSASSINATION WITH U.S. OFFICIAL

Charges Present Regime Was Guilty of Murder; Would Prevent United States From Taking Steps To Recognize Government.

Washington, July 8.—Julia Carranza's protest against the "assassination" of her father, the late General Venustiano Carranza, and charging General Obregon with responsibility for the Mexican president's death was filed with the state department today. The protest, it was said, was laid before the department by Senator Ymancio Bonillas, former Mexican ambassador at Washington.

The document is to be brought to the attention of Acting-Secretary of State Davis before the latter arranges another appointment with the Mexican commissioner, Senator Iglesias Calderon, now here urging recognition of the new Mexican regime.

The protest of Carranza's daughter forwarded from San Antonio, Texas, is a thousand word statement branding as "facial" the versions of Carranza's death given out from Mexico City.

"When legally constituted government is established in my country and justice is not administered by blood stained hands I will present to the courts all the proofs that are necessary and demand the punishment of those responsible for the death of my father," reads the protest.

HARDING EXPRESSES DELIGHT OVER AID OFFERED BY JOHNSON

Senator Says He Is Glad Former Rival Will Help Ticket.

GETS TAFT SUPPORT

Editor Of Cincinnati Times-Star Offers Support Of Family.

Marion, O., July 8.—Announcement of his support of the Republican ticket made yesterday by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, was received with enthusiasm at the Harding headquarters.

Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee, evinced quiet satisfaction when shown a press bulletin of the Johnson statement. "I am glad to know that Senator Johnson gives the ticket his support," the senator commented. "I am glad also to know that his support is for the platform rather than for the nominees. We are going to feature party rather than individuals in this campaign."

It is reported that strong effort is to be made by the campaign executive committee to induce Senator Johnson to make a speaking tour of the country in the interest of the Republican ticket. There is genuine appreciation by the campaign managers, it is stated, of the California senator's following, his personal magnetism and his eloquence.

A pledge of support "by the whole Taft family" has been received by Senator Harding from Hubert Taft, editor of the Cincinnati Times Star. "You have the best wishes of all the Taft family and of course, can count upon our most earnest support in the campaign," Hubert Taft wrote.

REPLIES TO TAFT

Senator Harding, replying, said: "It gratifies me very greatly to know that I have the best wishes of all the Taft family and the Times Star." Former President William Howard Taft took no part in the pre-convention campaign. He telegraphed his congratulations to Senator Harding after the latter's nomination. Robert Taft, son of the former president was active in support of Herbert Hoover during the pre-convention campaign.

General Leonard Wood is expected here next week for a conference with Senator Harding. Following that conference it is likely that a statement of support to the Republican ticket will be issued by General Wood and an appeal made to his following to get behind the Republican nominee.

This will leave Senator Borah, of Idaho, the only leader in the Chicago convention unpledged in a "public statement to the support of the Republican ticket. Harding campaign managers here today express the hope that Senator Borah will not delay long a public declaration in the interest of the Republican nominee. Senator Harding is declining invitations to make addresses and attend meetings that he may work on his speech of acceptance. Sticking to his habits as an editor he is writing his speech with a lead pencil on a scratch pad. He does not like to dictate and he cannot use a typewriter. When completed the speech will be set in type for distribution.

UNITED STATES MAY RECOGNIZE NEW MEXICAN REGIME IF GUARANTEE GIVEN

State Department Studying Situation Said To Favor Step If Assurances Are Had That Proper Protection Will Be Given Foreigners.

Washington, July 8.—It was announced at the state department that the Mexican situation is receiving more careful study by the American government than has any subject since the Paris peace conference.

This is with a view to according recognition to De la Huerta's provisional government provided satisfactory assurances are given that it can and will maintain order and live up to its obligations respecting the protection of the lives and property of foreigners.

American officials, it is stated authoritatively, are impressed with the evident sincerity of the expressions of Provisional President De la Huerta and of the efforts to bring about order in Mexico, but they have taken note that the active workers in the various departments of the Mexican government have not been changed and that the newly appointed cabinet

Governor Gives Address Before Dayton Country Club Wednesday.

READY TO START FIGHT

Need More Men Of Brains In Public Office Says Speaker.

Dayton, Ohio, July 8.—Like the soldier who has caught the smell of powder on the eve of battle and is impatient to get into fray, so Governor James M. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, finds himself tugging at the traces while waiting to jump into the campaign with all the physical and mental strength in his possession.

"The strain he is laboring under was demonstrated in his speech before the Dayton Country Club last night before the three hundred golfers participating in the state tournament here. While the talk was extemporaneous Governor Cox had deliberately planned to make no reference to politics and confine himself to golf entirely."

Toastmaster Lee Warren James, president of the Dayton Association of Commerce, introduced Governor Cox as the patron saint of the Ohio Golf Association and immediately connected politics with the meeting by adding that the governor would be the patron saint of the United States next November if not defeated by Senator Harding.

The presidential nominee prefaced his remarks with the explanation that his assignment had been made long ago and that he had made up his mind to appear regardless of whether he would wear craps or ribbons. He spoke of the intimate relations existing between Senator Harding and himself as fellow newspaper publishers and golfers. He recalled the meeting of the Ohio Dailies Association last winter in which they both were proposed as the respective candidates of the two parties and added facetiously "who knows but what the two editors and golfers arranged the whole thing between themselves and were playing the game together."

He then became serious and told that regardless of what the result would be in November Warren G. Harding and he would be the same good friends they have always been for years. A presidential campaign is nothing more or less than a great university that brings out the genius within its ranks. It is high time that this great country should attract the genius of the commercial world to the ranks of government. We have too long ben in the custom of lifting our heads once every four years from the business ledger to put our eyes on the flag. We need more men of brains. Ordinarily every man worth while who seeks public office does so from a sense of pride. It is natural that the circumstance of preference should appeal to every man. I am not one of those who believe that because we are living in a restless age, things are going to pop. I believe the greatest prosperity we have ever experienced lies just beyond the threshold.

POULTRY CULLING SCHOOLS TO BE HELD IN GREENE COUNTY

Four poultry culling schools will be held in Greene County on July 12 and July 13 according to arrangements made by County Agent Ford S. Prince of the Greene County Bureau.

The schools will be held July 12 at 9:30 o'clock in the morning at the home of Miss Lucy Mathews on the Hook road and at 2:30 at the home of D. E. Shoup, Beaver Creek. On July 13 the schools will be held in the morning at 9:50 at Clyde Northups on the Clifton pike and in the afternoon at 2:30 at the home of O. A. Dobbins, Ross township.

A specialist either from Cornell University or Ohio State will conduct the schools and will be able to tell the hens that will lay the most eggs. Poultry culling recently has been developed to the extent that the hens that will produce the most can be told instantly and the others weeded out.

Tests conducted in poultry culling have been accompanied with unusual results. C. J. Auperman of Hancock county had his flocks of 105 hens culled last fall. Before culling the hens laid 186 a week. Thirty five hens were culled out and the 70 good hens laid 252 eggs the week after culling. The culled hens were kept a week and did not produce an egg when they were disposed of. A good hen should lay ten or twelve months without stopping it is said and the culling schools to be conducted here are expected to be greatly beneficial in assisting Greene County farmers in securing the best producing hens possible.

"In 45 years of business, we have never sold anything that equaled Nerv-Worth as to results, and the amount sold," says the Troupe Drug Co., Springfield, Ohio.

BOYS, do YOU KNOW

that EDMONT CRACKERS are the BEST KIND of BREAD

When Uncle Sam picked men for his army overseas, he also picked foods that would keep those picked men robust and healthy—fit for the strenuous duties ahead of them.

His men who studied the value of different foods, chose crackers as bread that was purest and most nourishing, that made muscle and energy, that was always good any day, every day, summer or winter, spring or fall.

That's why our boys at the front, in the trenches, in the camps, ate crackers, the bread that satisfied their hunger and made them better men—physically fit, mentally keen.

EDMONT CRACKERS

are made by the bakers which were the only ones cited by the United States Government for its Distinguished Service.

You know how good Edgemont Crackers taste on the hike or with the meal out-of-doors. Well, they taste just as good or better, served with butter, at your table—every meal. Try it out. I know that you will prefer crackers and butter to just bread and butter. Then, if you like, add peanut butter or jelly or jam or molasses or honey or gravy. And speaking of gravy, just try Edgemont Crackers and chicken gravy.

ALWAYS CONVENIENT

Just as the crackers for our soldiers kept sweet and fresh in tins, so Edgemont Crackers for the family's every meal keep crisp and creamy in the Family Tin. Ask mother to keep a tin in her pantry.

For a hike or a day out-of-doors, for auto tour or week-end trip you'll find Edgemont Crackers conveniently packed in sealed cartons. Your neighborhood grocer also has Edgemont Crackers by the pound as well as in Family Tins or Carton.

Buy your crackers as you like, but insist on getting Edgemont Crackers. For they, the original salted butter crackers, are unusually good, and truly economical. There are 100 Edgemont Crackers to the pound. Look for the name "Edgemont" on the salted butter crackers you buy, and accept no other—none just as good. Get the kind that are as pure and wholesome as the crackers our soldiers ate.

Taste-pleasing are these baked confections—out-of-the-common combinations of rich little sugar cakes and fluffy marshmallows, velvety smooth.

Delightful when served with frozen dainties, fruits, or summer beverages—or when eaten as a dessert.

SLAIN MESSENGER BOY FOUND WEDNESDAY IN DAYTON; ROBBERY

Dayton, July 8.—With a 32 calibre bullet wound in the back of his head, the body of Roy N. Shay, 19, 2617 Germantown street, Dayton, and employed as a messenger by the Western Union, was found at a lonely spot along the river road near the foot of South Broadway by fishermen Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The boy was found lodged in a wire fence by Lester Winkler, 37 Fluhart Avenue and George Pike, 43 Fluhart Avenue, who were seeking a place to fish. Robbery is given as the motive for the crime as it was known Shay had a large amount of money with him when he left the

TO STOOP OVER MADE TIFFIN MAN AWFULLY DIZZY

Machinist says his liver was sluggish, bowels constipated, gas bloated his stomach. Declares two bottles of Drego gave prompt relief.

"I used to have difficulty in keeping on the sidewalk because I'd get so dizzy I'd stumble along like I was drunk," said Mr. William Alwine, the well known machinist residing at 142 East Railroad St., Tiffin, O.

"After each meal my stomach would fill up with gas, making me very uncomfortable. I couldn't enjoy sitting around home at night on account of the gas. My stomach burned like it had fire in it. My bowels were bound up; liver was very sluggish; my tongue had a thick coat on it all the time and my breath was bad. I got nervous so that my sleep was broken and my appetite was very poor.

"I thought I had taken much medicine, none seemed to reach my troubles but two bottles of Drego have cleared me out fine and I feel better than I have in years. My liver is active, bowels more regular; no more gas troubles me; I have a good appetite and sleep fine. Drego surely benefited me."

Drego is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves, which act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart trouble, gas on the stomach and other troubles.

All druggists sell Drego and it is being especially introduced in Xenia by Sohn's Drug Store.

Western Union office, and the motorcycle and sidecar which he rode, cannot be found.

Shay left the Western Union office Tuesday night alone. He stopped several places and delivered messages. In an attempt to locate an address 325 South Western Union woke up John Thomas at 403 South Western Avenue. Thomas says he had a man with him in the sidecar. Unable to locate the address, he stopped at a restaurant and bought a sandwich. The waiter said a man remained outside in the sidecar while the boy was in the restaurant. This was the last seen of him. Police and county officials are joining in the investigation and are looking for the man who accompanied the boy on his fatal ride.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

MEN AND MARRIAGE

Chapter 57

Even now I shudder when I think of those days in the restaurant; those first days when alone I tried to keep up my courage. I knew well that as soon as Mary came I should bear things better, yet I felt terribly selfish that I had said anything to her. If it should turn out badly and then Rosestein should refuse to take her back, I would feel so guilty.

All day Sunday we washed and ironed and cleaned. Without saying very much, Mary seemed to realize that her untidiness worried me—that she would be more of a lady in my estimation if she were neat and tidy. It was strange, when you think we were the same age, how eager she was to do as I wanted her to. Just a hint was enough to make her forswear the habits of her lifetime.

"You know what real ladies do, I don't," she would say. "I know what them kind what pretend to be and ain't, do—lots of them—but when it comes to the real thing I'm as foolish as a baby and Zena," she would add. "I do want to be lady some time more'n anythin in the world. But till you come along I had a swell chance!"

Mrs. Lynch was as pleased as could be when she found Mary was to work in the same place with me.

"It's better for the both of yees," she declared. "One of yees can take care of the other. Not sayin' but you both be good girls either. But Chicago is Chicago just like any other big city and girls can't be to care ful. Just don't believe any shilly-shallin' men and you'll be all right. If I hadn't swallowed the things Joe Lynch told me, hook, line and sinker I wouldn't be rentin' rooms in me old age. He had a smooth tongue, Lynch had, begorra! Lookie most of the Irish—meself included—and it sure didn't take him long to git around Kitty Hagerty, that's me. A few smooth words, a kiss and then the praste. Didn't take long, but be gorra the repentin' has been long enough to make up. The Good Book sez, or did I hear it somewhere, that thim what marries in haste, repents at their leisure. True, it is ivery word. So look out, girls—Chicago men has mighty coxin ways!"

Mary and I both laughed while I assured her she need not worry about either of us getting married just yet.

"It's a troso I'll have before I step out," Mary declared. "and a fine one too, I ain't goin' to be married but once and I'm goin' to have all the trimmings, ain't you, Zena?"

"I never expect to get married, Mary," I returned. Someway I didn't feel like laughing. The thought of Kenneth Lawrence flashed thru my mind. What would he think of me now—a waitress in a cheap restaurant taking five and ten-cent tips?

"Sure you will some day," Mrs. Lynch, who had lingered broke in,

"But take your time Miss Zena. Its awful to marry wrong."

After she had left the room Mary said: "Did you mean that, Zena, about not getting married?"

"Yes, Mary."

"Honest Injun, don't you ever expect to marry no one—ever?"

"No, Mary."

"Did you have a fellow what loved you die, like they do in stories?"

"No—but Mary, who would want to marry a poor unhappy girl like me? Then too, I have promised to take care of Mother—you know to make her a home."

"I've been thinkin, a lot about that, Zena. Don't it sort of fit in with what Mrs. Lynch told us about hurryin' No fellow wants to marry a whole ready-made family, I guess. But perhaps some day we'll find a fellow what might help—if he loved us enough."

"That's just it, Mary—if he loved us enough, I guess not many young men we are apt to meet would do that—not men we want to know."

"Beats all, don't it, Zena how they act. Well, never mind, some day we'll have good positions, then we'll sho wthom where they git off."

"Come, run home and go to bed," I said, pointing toward the hall. "Remember, we have been laundresses all day tomorrow we have to be waitresses."

To-morrow—A Rose

Now the filmiest of summer materials are practical

You can wash them with perfect safety

THE sheerest batistes and nainsooks, the finest handkerchief linens, cobwebby voiles and organdies—they can give as good service today as gingham!

It is all a question of how you wash them. Naturally, when you rubbed soap into them, and scrubbed it out again, those delicate fabrics never used to last! The fine things could not stand it. But there is no rubbing with Lux—just the sousing through rich foamy Lux suds, the gentle cleansing that gossamer fabrics demand.

With Lux your blouses and gowns may be ever so filmy—yet softly cleansed and protected.

Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux—Lever Brothers Co., Cambridge, Mass.

How to launder sheer fabrics

Use one tablespoonful of Lux to a gallon of water. Whisk to a rich lather in very hot water. Let white things soak for a few minutes, then dip them up and down. Press the suds through again and again. Do not rub. Rinse in three hot waters and dry in the sun.

For colors add cold water until suds are lukewarm. Wash quickly and rinse in three lukewarm waters. Dry in the shade.

Nothing so delicate as Lux

MEN SAID EMPLOYEES OF CIRCUS HELD ON COMPLAINT OF GIRL

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, William Meders of Jeffersonville, Ind., and Thomas McKinney of Cincinnati, said to be connected with the circus which gave an exhibition in this city Tuesday, were arrested by Piqua police Wednesday and held for Probate Judge J. C. Marshall.

Sheriff L. Funderburg went to Piqua Thursday for the purpose of bringing the men to Xenia. They may face a more serious charge in this city.

Sheriff Funderburg will also bring home from Piqua 14 year old Lillie Anderson, daughter of Leon Anderson of Goes Station, whose complaint that the girl had been taken away in one of the circus cars, led to the investigation, and arrest of the men in Piqua.

Myrtle Shanks, aged 17, living on Miller Avenue, this city, told the story which gave the clue to the girls whereabouts. As the result of her story Mr. Anderson consulted Chief of police Graham, who advised him to go to the juvenile court. Miss Shanks told Judge Marshall that the little Anderson girl had been persuaded to enter the circus box car Tuesday night after the show, and that some of the men had also pulled her into the car. She declared that she objected, and that when the train reached Kikare Park, and slowed down, that she jumped off, and walked back to her home in this city.

Judge Marshall learned that the circus was to exhibit Wednesday in Piqua, and he telephoned to Piqua police to look out for the girl and men. He received a telephone message from Piqua at 9:30 Wednesday night that the girl had been taken in charge and two men arrested.

DINNER STORIES

Deep in a ponderous calculation the professor leaned over his desk. One hand held his massive brow; the other guided his pencil. Suddenly the library door was flung open, and a nurse entered, smiling broadly.

"There's a little stranger upstairs, professor," she announced.

of course referring to the very latest arrival.

"Oh?" grunted the man of learning, poring deeply over his problem.

"It's a little boy," remarked the nurse, still smiling.

"A little boy?" mused the professor. "Little boy—ah? Well, ask him what he wants!"

He is a big game hunter, and was talking of his happy experiences in the out-of-doors. Then the talk drifted to old friends back in the old home town.

"Whatever became of So-and-So?" one friend asked the hunter.

"Oh, hadn't you heard? He's in jail."

"You don't tell me!"

"Yes, I went down to the jail to see him the other day."

"That was a friendly thing to do. What did you talk about?"

"Oh, outdoor life!"

Little Roy had returned from a week's visit to his aunt and was trying to describe the folding bed he had been sleeping in. "It lays down at night, mamma, and stands on its hind legs in the daytime."

"Only half of them?" mused Mrs. Gabb.

"Yes," replied Mr. Gabb. "The other half wholesale it."

TAKE PEPSINCO

Don't burn good fuel in a poor stove

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEPSINCO.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

CHAMBER COMMERCE SCHOOL WILL OPEN

Secretary L. C. Tingley, of the Xenia Chamber of Commerce, will attend the sixth annual session of the summer school of Community Leadership to be conducted by the American City Bureau, August 16 to 27, at Madison, Wis., in the University of Wisconsin buildings.

The school is an outgrowth of an exceptional demand for capable men in the commercial and civic organization field and is the only one of its kind in the country. More than 600 positions as managers, or assistant managers of Chambers of Commerce were filled during the past 12 months, most of them at salaries from $3,000 to $8,000 and more. These men are being drawn from all fields, only about 70 per cent of those taking jobs last year, having held similar positions before, and 35 per cent of them being drawn from the newspaper profession.

Last year 191 students attended the school and more are expected this year.

A SCION OF "THE ART PRESERVATIVE OF ALL ARTS" BOUND FOR THE WHITE HOUSE.

Hurrah! Journalism is certainly looking up. Why not? Honor to the shades of Ben Franklin, Horace Greeley, James Gordon Bennett, Pulitzer, and Whitelaw Reed. American institutions have been held before the world so bravely as to bring these men renown. And now, even greater fame is coming to a former "Printer's Devil." One such is slated to be President of the United States—either our neighbor, Governor James M. Cox, or Senator Warren G. Harding.

It is certainly a great honor that is coming to the profession. And why not? To what other agency is attributable the manufacture of Public Opinion? Private opinion is weak, but Public Opinion is almost omnipotent. A single snow-flake—who cares for that? But a whole day of snow flakes, drifting over everything, obliterating landmarks, and gathering on the mountain to crash in avalanches, who does not care for that? Such is public opinion.

Public sentiment is a battery which protects us all, and which sweeps away all in opposition. It powerfully restrains men from doing wrong, and when men do wrong sets itself powerfully against them. Public opinion, or public sentiment, is able to sustain, or to pull down any law of the state or of the nation.

And what agency in the world comes anything so near to making Public Opinion as Journalism? Little by little, day by day, the reader imbibes the sentiments of his favorite newspaper. An important profession, indeed, and we will all feel honored when one of our cloth becomes President.

But, says a critic, it was not as an Editor that either Mr. Harding or Mr. Cox was selected as their party's standard bearer, but because of their known character as men of ability in knowledge of Public Affairs. Granted—but we are sure they came up to this condition of statesmanship through the tortuous way that hard work in the printing office had imposed—for we read that both started out as poor boys. So we are going to claim them as products of the "art preservative of all arts."

Also, we are happy to predict that this is going to be a campaign free from personal vilification. Did you notice Senator Harding's telegram of congratulations to Governor Cox, as follows: "I recall a much-remarked cartoon which portrays you and myself as newsboys for the White House delivery. It seems to have been prophetic. As an Ohioan and a fellow publisher I congratulate you upon your notable victory."

They are both able men, each worthy of his party's choice, and whichever becomes President we shall be proud to have a fellow craftsman in the White House.

EXPANSION OF INDUSTRY INDICATES CONFIDENCE IN THE FUTURE.

A most remarkable compilation has been issued by the New York Journal of Commerce. It shows that from January 1, this year, to and including May 31, there were authorized in this country new capitalization to the amount of $7,586,984,900 for corporations of $100,000 or more. The report does not cover the thousands of smaller concerns, but which probably add many millions to the aggregate, enough to bring the total to $8,000,000,000.

This is an extraordinarily large volume of financing to go into new enterprises. One wonders where all the billions come from when one reads of stringent money markets and high rates of interest. The report referred to shows that since the armistice more than $5,000,000,000 have gone into new oil and gas companies alone. Strictly industrial enterprises make up an equally large portion of the grand total, and there are all kinds of financial and commercial ventures in the list. The total for all is about $50,000,000,000.

Notwithstanding the many adverse factors of which we hear and read so much—high taxes, depressed markets for securities, labor troubles, curtailed production, etc.—there is no reflection of these conditions in the compilation of new capital. Rather, it tells of an overwhelming confidence in the future of this country, and of a preparation by wide-awake business men, backed by prosperous investors, for greater expansion of industry and productiveness of all kinds, as soon as the orderly deflation from war conditions now in progress shall have been completed. And there are no signs of near exhaustion of the reservoir of ready capital.

AIR TRAVEL.

Air travel is said to be growing commonplace in Europe. There are air routes already established from London to Paris and from Paris to nearly all the other important continental cities, and the trips are becoming not only safe but fairly cheap.

Special trips can be arranged to almost any point in Europe at 30 cents a mile. Regular schedule trips are cheaper than that. Passengers are allowed to carry 30 pounds of personal luggage. The best patronized route is naturally that from London to Paris, which takes less than three hours instead of ten hours or more by rail and steamer, and which involves no seasickness in crossing the Channel.

Europe is somewhat better adapted to air flights than America, because of the shorter distances between important points. Nevertheless the same thing will soon be done here, and done as usual on a bigger and more successful scale. The federal government has already done valuable pioneering in its air mail routes. They will soon cover the country, and passenger routes will be the next step. Several are already planned between eastern cities, and a company recently organized expects soon to have in operation a fleet of big passenger planes connecting Cleveland and Detroit and bringing those cities within two hours of each other.

The time will surely come, and come so quickly as to surprise most people, when a man starting in the morning may fly from New York to Washington, or Buffalo to Chicago, or Kansas City to New Orleans, and transact his business and return home the same evening. Men now middle-aged may see the time when any person who has never ridden in an airplane will be an object of wonder.

THE INTERPRETATION OF THE WRITING ON THE POLITICAL WALL ("National Ratification of the Federal Women's Suffrage Amendment") MEANS THAT—

BELIEVES HOLDUP WAS ATTEMPTED NEAR NEW JASPER

J. R. Bailey junk man, believes that he was the victim of an attempted hold-up of the first of the week while traveling on the Zanesville road near New Jasper.

Bailey was driving a horse and wagon about ten o'clock at night through a dark covered bridge two miles south of New Jasper. In the center of the bridge the horse suddenly stopped and the driver sensed, that while no command was given him to halt or throw up his hands, that the horse was stopped by someone taking hold of the bridle. He whipped up the horse, which finally apparently broke loose and ran.

Bailey visited the scene the next day and saw a big hole at the side of the bridge, large enough to hold a man. While he cannot be sure he feels that under the circumstances a hold-up was attempted and that he was fortunate enough to break away before the hold-up man could search him.

GIVEN HIGH POST BY WORLD LEAGUE

Dr. Royal Meeker.

Dr. Royal Meeker, former U. S. commissioner of labor, has resigned his post to accept the position of editor-in-chief of the monthly bulletin of the international labor office of the league of nations. Dr. Meeker's selection for this important task is regarded in official circles as a splendid tribute to his ability and record since the United States is not a member of the league. The action of the international labor office in choosing him is also considered proof that this international body is organizing its staff to secure results without regard to politics. Dr. Meeker will sail for Geneva, Switzerland, July 31.

Locke was formerly a Pennsylvania railroad section boss and had charge of the section near Alpha. He is now unable to work, having recently been paralyzed on one side, losing the sight of one eye. He chose to take the money instead of the machine and was given $2,000.

DE VALERA TO TEACH.

SUMMER DAYS.

A summer sun now hands us one, and paints our maps with freckles; we cry, "Gee Whizz!" For cooling fizz we blow our hard-earned sneezes. Though summer's bad, and from the grad we willingly would drive it, some simple rules not taught in schools may help us to survive it. The heat will flay that bonehead jay who's prone to be a glutton, who fiercely eats all kinds of meats, including pork and mutton. The same galoots who live on fruits endure the summer grandly; the sun may fry the whole blamed sky, and they'll regard it blandly. I cut out hams and feed on yams, which cool my fevered bunions; I sidestep cheese and from the trees I pluck the fragrant onions. Rich pies and cakes, and chops and steaks, I find there is a curse on; I eat no more than I can store with comfort in my person. And so I live and smile and give sage counsel while I frolic, while those who eat large slabs of meat are doubled up with colic. I have eschewed all heating food, I've sidestepped beer and skittles, and all my tunes are based on prunes and other wholesome vittles.

NEARLY $10,000 IS SUBSCRIBED SO FAR FOR HOME MEMORIAL

About $10,000 has been subscribed by former pupils of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Home, for the Ex-Pupils memorial building which is to be erected at the institution.

President I. W. Thrasher of the Association of Ex-Pupils, who is chairman of the memorial fund, made a report at the opening business session of the Ex-Pupils Wednesday morning. He said that of the amount subscribed, about $2,400 is on deposit in The Commercial and Savings Bank this city, which is the depository for the fund. It is expected that about $1000 of the amount subscribed, will be paid during the present reunion.

The A. X. P. elected the following officers Wednesday morning: President, Isaac W. Thrasher, Newport, Ky.; Vice President, Dr. George H. Lampe, Cincinnati; Recording Secretary, Miss Grace Shroades, Dayton; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Emma Gibson, Cincinnati; Treasurer, Oliver DeVore, Leipsic. The executive committee consists of: George Stulz, Dayton; Mrs. Alice Neson, Granville; Miss Mabel Ryan, Pittsburgh; Ed. S. Anderson, Crestline; James H. Augustus, Springfield.

The association sent a telegram of sympathy and condolence to Ed. A. Boice of St. Louis, a well known "ex" who is critically ill. This is the first reunion that Mr. Boice has missed attending in about 30 years.

A dance will follow the banquet of the A. X. P. Wednesday night. A jazz orchestra from Cincinnati will play for the dancing.

The only difficulty with shampooing the hair at home is the matter of rinsing. Very few people manage to get all the soap from the hair; in fact, there are many professionals who are either too careless or too unskilled to do this. If, after you have shampooed your hair, you find it sticky, or if you see a little gray film along the edge of your brush, you will know that all the soap has not been rinsed out and that you are clogging the pores of the hair and really doing a great deal of harm by letting it stay in.

The trouble usually begins with the washing. It is necessary, first of all, to use enough soap. The first time you go over the hair with soap, you cut through the accumulation of oil and dust, but you do not get it all out. You should begin again with a fresh basin full of water, and go over the hair a second time with soap. In many cases it is necessary to use the soap a third time before the hair is quite free from oil and dirt.

With the oil out it is easier to rinse off the soap. The first rinse water should be a little hotter than the water previously used for washing, and each succeeding rinse may be gradually cooler. If you have running water and can attach a hose to the faucet, this is the ideal way to clear the hair of every particle of soap. If you haven't, at least five basinsful will be necessary. If you are ever in doubt, rinse the hair again, for too much rinsing cannot be harmful and too little is certain to be.

Auburn—It is very hard for a girl having auburn hair to avoid freckles, because her skin is the sensitive sort that marks easily. I would suggest that the best thing for you to do is to avoid freckles by wearing wide-brimmed hats with dark facings, and by filling the skin with cream and powder before going into the sun. But this sort of thing is always a bother and freckles are not really ugly.

CUT HEAR Do not remove the hairs on the arms. You might bleach them by using peroxide on the skin occasionally, but they cannot be very prominent on a person of your complexion.
